Q1 2014 RESULTS

ATCO REVENUE

ATCO ADJUSTED EARNINGS

STRUCTURES & LOGISTICS

- As expected, forgone earnings from the sale of the Company's Modular Structures operations in South America contributed to lower earnings in Q1 2014. Reduced project activity in Australia was also a factor contributing to lower adjusted earnings.
- These lower earnings were partially offset by continued strong project activity in the North American Modular Structures division.
- Two contracts were awarded to the Company for Facility O&M Services in Q1 2014.
- High activity levels in North American Modular Structures operations are expected to continue on the strength of on-going and planned projects.

ADJUSTED EARNINGS

UTILITIES

- Utilities adjusted earnings were up 10% in Q1 2014 driven by significant investment in utility infrastructure in Alberta, particularly in Electric Transmission. Utility capital expenditures were $506 million in Q1 ($329 million in Electric Transmission).
- ATCO plans to invest $2 billion in 2014 and $5.5 billion over the next three years from 2014 to 2016.

ADJUSTED EARNINGS

ENERGY

- Energy's adjusted earnings increased by 20% in Q1 2014.
- ATCO Energy Solutions' earnings were up mainly due to higher frac spreads as a result of higher natural gas and propane prices.
- ATCO Power earnings were similar to earnings in the same period of 2013.
- Battle River 3 and 4 units became merchant operations in Q1 2014 upon the expiration of their regulated power purchase arrangements.

ADJUSTED EARNINGS

AUSTRALIA

- Higher spending on advertising to generate customer and volume growth led to lower earnings at ATCO Gas Australia in Q1 2014.
- Continued investment in utility assets is generating rate base growth. The credit ratings upgrade and refinancing activity in Q4 2013 lowered interest costs. Both the rate base growth and lower interest costs will contribute to increased earnings.
